

MY FUNERAL WISHES

If you do just one thing...

Nicholas O'Hara Funeral Directors is a privately owned, independent family funeral directors which was established in 1974. Owned and managed by Nicholas O'Hara, wife, Jackie, son, Anthony and daughter, Natalie. We are proud to run a truly independent family business. When you need us, our family really is here for your family.

At Nicholas O'Hara Funeral Directors, we believe in maintaining the highest levels of service possible in all areas of our business; from caring for the deceased, to assisting and advising the bereaved with due care and sensitivity. We understand that a funeral holds a special place in people's memory and so we pay careful attention to every detail and request to create a special day for those lost and those that mourn.

IF YOU DO JUST ONE THING...

With the rise in people choosing to pre-arrange their own funeral and often purchasing a funeral plan, it led me to consider what I would want and what my own loved ones would want for themselves. The conversation for us as funeral directors should be easy, as this is what we help others with every day. We have given advice to many hundreds of families, spoken to groups, arranged many funeral plans and preach the importance of making your wishes known, yet we have never had the conversation ourselves.

We appreciate that for many this is a difficult subject to discuss and when we, as a family, made the time, we found we all had different and personal wishes we would like to be considered. These choices would have possibly never been shared had we not started to listen to our own preaching.

When a death occurs, every emotion can appear and through these, decisions have to be made. These decisions form the basis the direction of a funeral will go, and for many the decisions are made both quickly and without knowledge or experience.

If I can offer just a single piece of advice, based not just on my own personal experience but also on the many times we have similar situations with the families we help, it would be, make your funeral wishes known now, for the benefit of your own family and friends, and for your own peace of mind too.

Please use this booklet to express your wishes in as much or little detail as you wish, and tell someone where it is kept.
